SIXTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1940

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF FINE ARTS

*To the President and the Governing Members of
The Art Institute of Chicago:*

DURING the past year the Art Institute has maintained that steady progress indicated in my report to you of last season. Its staff has been strengthened, its resources and activities increased, its influence in interpreting art to a wider and constantly more eager public broadened. When you consider that all these efforts have been carried on in a period of national uncertainty and reduced return on investments, you will understand that our Institute is playing a most significant role, not only in the life of Chicago but in the whole United States.

It is not my place to detail the gains and advances made by the devoted workers in this museum. You may read these line by line and statistic by statistic in their individual statements. You will find in their reports how the citizens of Chicago and their children are coming year by year to use the Art Institute to greater advantage, not only as galleries have been used in the past, as places to enjoy works of art, but as a broad and popular agency for education. This conception of an Institute is purely American. It owes nothing to the storehouses of Europe. When you realize that in our institution you can secure anything from a specialized training in the School to a half-hour lecture in the galleries, you can begin to sense the strength of our educational position and the breadth of its appeal.

The greatness of a museum lies in its permanent possessions. This can never be emphasized sufficiently. Without a splendid collection of works of art, chosen first for quality and second for historic importance, you may have the most beautifully proportioned and lighted galleries to no avail. I am happy to report to you that in the Departments of Painting and Sculpture, Oriental Art, Prints and Drawings, and Decorative Arts there have been a number of significant additions. Some of these have come from purchase funds, many more from generous friends who continue to support the museum with outstanding gifts. Acquisitions in these departments are proceeding, as far as possible, in line with orderly planning. The Art Institute has now reached a stage of development where every work added must play its role in the entire survey.

Without a staff, at once well informed and actively alert, to make these collections understood by our public, works of art are dead indeed. A curator in an art museum must have an unusual combination of qualities.

He must be a scholar in knowledge, an artist in presentation, and a popularizer in the best sense of the word. Here our staff has been materially strengthened by the appointment of Carl O. Schniewind as Curator of Prints and Drawings. Succeeding Mrs. Lilian Combs, who as Acting Curator of that department for six years did so much to continue its growth and activities, Mr. Schniewind, who was educated in Europe, comes to Chicago from the Brooklyn Museum where he successfully headed the Print Department for the last five years. Already his drive and enthusiasm have been felt in the Print Galleries and under his leadership this important division promises to become one of the liveliest centers in the museum. In the same way, Meyric R. Rogers, Curator of Decorative Arts and Curator of Industrial Arts, has already made great strides in his section of the Institute. A number of reinstallations of material are under way and all the collections under his supervision are being restudied. Other staff appointments made during 1940 have reinforced the museum in much needed fields and will be found in the curatorial reports.

Many of the galleries of Oriental Art have been reinstalled under the expert hand of Charles Fabens Kelley, Assistant Director and Curator of that department. For the first time you may see the superb Chinese bronzes and sculpture of the Lucy Maud Buckingham Memorial Collection at their full advantage against harmonious backgrounds and in uncrowded display. With the relocation of the Persian Gallery, Japanese and Chinese art are now brought into closer relationship and the whole sequence of Oriental rooms made more understandable.

Not only have old arrangements been improved but new space for administration and collections added. Robert Allerton, for years one of the Institute's most farseeing and generous donors, has completed his splendid addition of the new Allerton Wing with a series of offices and study rooms for the Decorative Arts Department. For the first time the Curator is located near his galleries and in addition a most needed Textile Study Room—where students and designers may use textiles for reference—has been constructed. Gallery 5A has been installed with a remarkable collection of ancient glass lent by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson. Through the generosity of the lenders special cases have been made and new types of lighting devised to bring out the iridescent beauty of the material. Mr. Kelley directed this installation, working for many months to secure perfect arrangement and lighting. His success has already been hailed in museum circles and the gallery has attracted a large attendance.

There is no lecture room in Chicago more used than Fullerton Hall, and of late years, when motion-picture and music projection have come to play their part in visual education and when the old gray lantern slide is being brightened with color, this apparatus has presented a complicated and unsightly appearance. Go into Fullerton Hall today and you will find this equipment scientifically housed in a new projection booth built during the last year. Less spectacular but of primary importance is the placing of roofs over Gunsaulus Hall. You must never forget that sections of our building are nearly half a century old. For the last six years the skylights have been under reconstruction and it will take several years more before this troublesome but highly necessary work is finished. The total cost of the replacement will run to over $225,000—a sum more than equaling half of the entire budget of the museum for a year! When you realize that this huge amount must be saved from income, you'll appreciate how great a drain this single expense has become. The renewal of these roofs, as well as other construction throughout the building, have been under the direction of J. Francis McCabe, our highly capable Superintendent. In his department our Shipping Room alone has handled the staggering total of 21,123 separate items during the past year, including the priceless Italian paintings and sculpture.

I am happy to tell you that the School of the Institute, under Dean Norman L. Rice, continues to advance. The new experiment in advanced degrees is providing a forward step; already seven Master's degrees have been conferred for graduate study and others are under way. The School of the Drama, headed by Dr. Maurice Gnesin, is acknowledged the leading theater school in this country, continuing to present to our Members a series of plays that draw larger and larger audiences.

The Ryerson and Burnham Libraries are unique in the Middle West. Not only do they serve the museum and school staffs with cheerful efficiency but are continually enlarging their influence through the loan of lantern slides, photographs, and other visual material. These libraries are used for constant reference by students, scholars, artists, designers, and the public from Chicago and from all over the United States. The more that Europe is shut away, the more we need and employ the American tools for study. Under the expert direction of Miss Etheldred Abbot and her staff, these libraries contribute greatly to enriching American life.

The varied program for Members, consisting of lectures, gallery tours, and practical work in the arts, not only brings a report of art outside our walls, but is, I am happy to say, focusing more and more attention upon objects in the museum. Dr. Dudley Crafts Watson and his assistants bring alive the art that is past and interpret the challenging art of today, making students and young artists in the schools aware of their opportunities. Miss Helen Parker, Head of the Department of Education, has been able, thanks to a few generous donations, to increase the scope of her work to include a certain number of free lectures. The response has been extraordinary and much more needs to be accomplished in this direction. Closely associated with both museum teaching and the exhibition schedule is the Gallery of Art Interpretation. Miss Mackenzie, its Curator, arranged a particularly striking explanatory exhibit, Understanding Picasso.

During 1940 the exhibition program of the Art Institute has been not only varied but thrilling. When the exhibition of Italian Masterpieces closed on January 10, a total attendance of 256,679 was recorded. The showing of Picasso—Forty Years of His Art (arranged by the Institute in collaboration with The Museum of Modern Art, New York) brought to Chicago a complete survey of the work of one of the greatest moderns. Early in December there opened in the Decorative Arts Department a first showing of American Rooms in Miniature by Mrs. James Ward Thorne. This charming exhibition of architectural models, complete to the last fork and candlestick, shows Mrs. Thorne's unique mastery of her art and promises to outdistance in enthusiasm the showing of her earlier series.

During the past year you have doubtless seen the Art Institute's activities featured more and more in the press. Lester B. Bridaham, Public Relations Counsel, has successfully carried out many campaigns in the newspapers and magazines. That these articles appeared in a year of war and elections is a tribute to his planning and energy. On the radio the series of Great Artists has brought many new visitors to the museum.

In last year's report I emphasized a number of imperative needs which our institution faces. Here I list them again, reporting what progress has been made:

1. MUSEUM EDUCATION. For years the Institute has been pointing out the necessity for an endowment for the Department of Education. Though no such endowment has been forthcoming Miss Parker's department has continued to receive the support of Miss Florence Dibell Bartlett, which allows its Head to present one free evening lecture a week to the public. The Maymar Corporation has generously supplied a fund from which free Sunday lectures in the galleries have been financed. We need more gifts of this nature.

2. STAFF. As I have informed you above the Staff of the museum has been consistently strengthened. At no time in its history has the Art Institute enjoyed so balanced a group of museum workers. There are still many gaps and lacks and a series of Endowed Curatorships would be a most significant addition. The Director of Fine Arts stands ready to discuss such possibilities with any donor who might consider this splendid form of memorial.

3. PURCHASE FUNDS. There still remains an overwhelming need for gifts of money to help complete the great collections of the Institute. These are troubled times and frequently there appears on the market an object which, were funds available, might be acquired for Chicago, rather than go elsewhere. Competition between museums and between collectors and museums is keen. The Art Institute has comparatively small funds and the Curators and the Director of Fine Arts will be happy to point out such needs and opportunities.

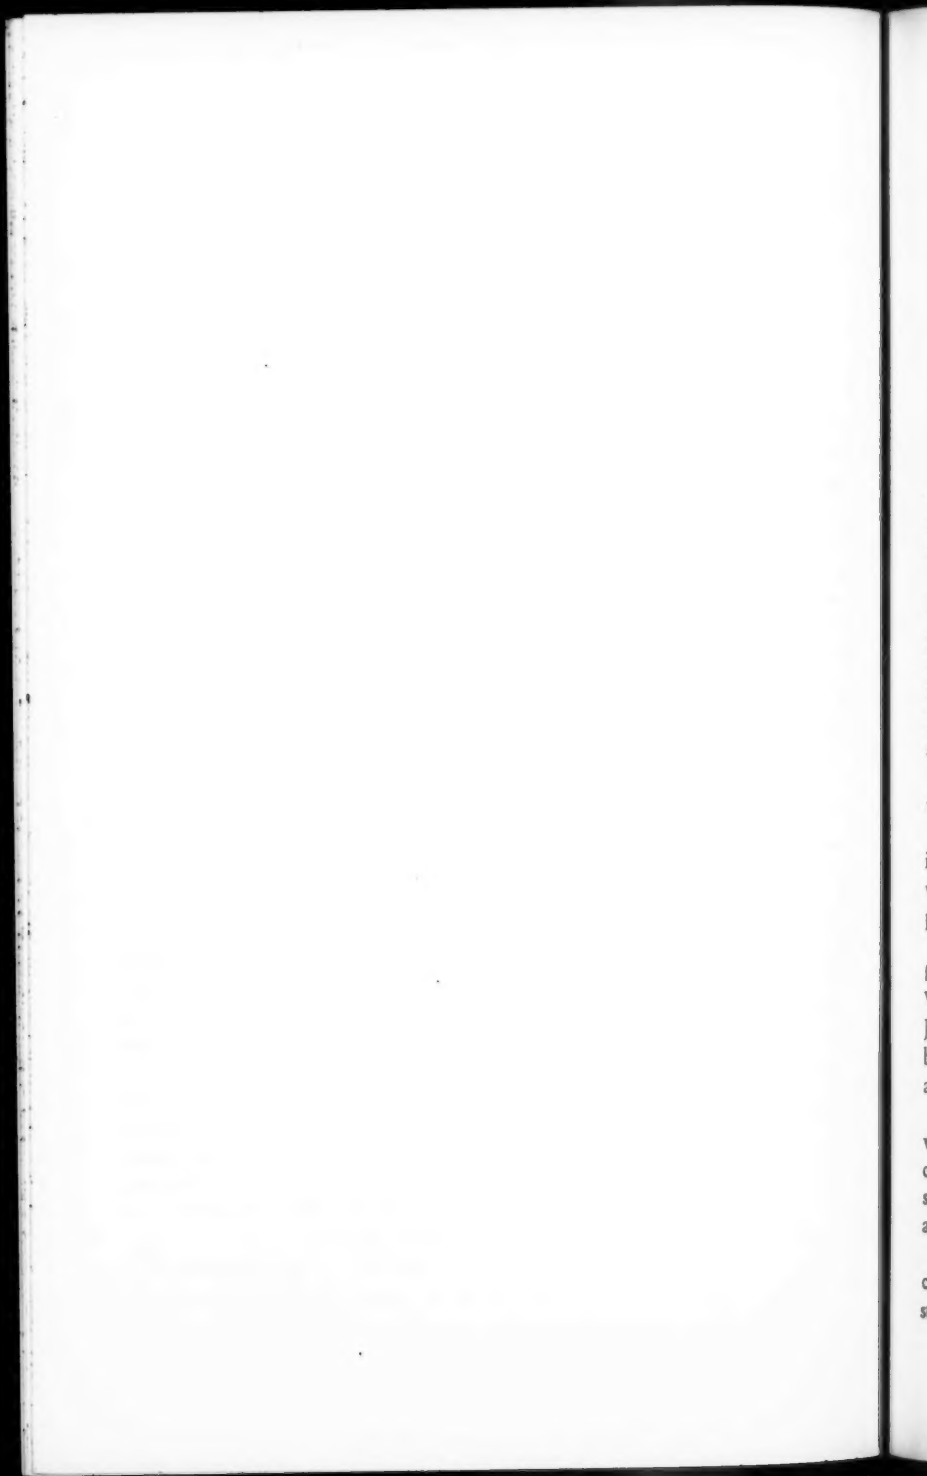

4. PUBLICATIONS. Though we still lack a Publications Fund, we have been able to finance certain catalogues and handbooks. The new series of Picture Books is a step in the right direction and such a publication as Miss Mackenzie's record of the exhibition, Understanding Picasso, (with the University of Chicago Press) shows how much might be done. During 1941 we hope to issue one scholarly and several popular handbooks.

5. ENDOWED PROFESSORSHIPS. In 1938 I first emphasized this need. Only two such endowments were then in force, the Frederick Lattimer Wells Professorship Fund and the Elizabeth J. Ward Fund. Now, through the generosity of an anonymous donor, the School has been able to set up an advanced course in the field of mural painting. A Chair of Decorative Arts or Painting will be established when the recently announced bequest of $100,000 for that purpose by Mrs. Frank H. Sellers is received. The Director of Fine Arts and the Dean of the School are eager to discuss further endowments with donors interested in this plan.

So far the items that I have reported to you throw into optimistic light what has been going on at the Institute in 1940. You get the impression of a busy and progressive year. And yet, as we leave 1940 and look forward into 1941 and the years ahead, we find our institution facing a serious and uncertain future. Large and active as the Institute is, we have fewer financial resources than many other institutions of our rank. With smaller and smaller returns from investments we face a day when our activities may be appallingly curtailed through lack of funds. If Chicago's art center is not only to advance along the lines that it should, but even to maintain its present standard of service, greater support from the citizens of our city is imperative. We stand in need of contributions, both large and small. We must have unrestricted gifts, flexible enough to divert to whatever emergency may arise. In no other way will The Art Institute of Chicago be able to keep its great place in the life of Chicago and in the art education of this country.

All over Europe museums are falling. Their masterpieces are underground or in hiding. Museum staffs are dispersed. The galleries are empty and unlighted. Let us remember that in supporting those institutions which give American culture meaning and purpose, we are defending our very way of life. Gifts to the Institute and continued support of its program are essential in these troubled, uncertain days.

REPORTS OF THE DEPARTMENTS FOR 1940

PAINTING AND SCULPTURE

ACQUISITIONS in this department during the past year include fifty-five oils, one miniature, ten water colors, and four pieces of sculpture. Of this number fifty-nine were gifts, nine were purchases, and the remaining two acquired as purchase prizes in the Nineteenth International Exhibition of Water Colors.

Two notable German paintings of the sixteenth century which were formerly on loan at the Art Institute have become a part of the permanent collection by the generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Worcester. One of these, The Judgment of Paris, by Matthias Gerung (1500-1566/70) represents Paris and Hermes in the center with Diana and Minerva at the left and Venus at the right. In the background is a landscape of exquisite delicacy and charm.

The other painting, Woman with Prayer Book, is an outstanding portrait by Bartel Bruyn the Younger (1522(?)—c. 1610), the Cologne master.

A collection of forty paintings is the gift of Frederick T. Haskell. This includes examples of the eighteenth- and nineteenth-century French school, with particular emphasis on the Barbizon masters, and several English paintings including portraits by Gainsborough, Reynolds, and Lawrence.

From the bequest of Emanuel F. Selz the Art Institute has received five paintings including an excellent Italianate work of Walter Shirlaw, Washhouse Interior; a delightful atmospheric scene of Paris Winter by Jean François Raffaelli; Young Girl in Red Dress, a sensitive portrait by George Fuller; a small sketch, The End of the Barn by George Inness; and a colorful portrait, Pink Gown by Frederick Frieske.

Outstanding among the purchases is the Courtyard Scene by Hendrik van der Burch (1614—c. 1678), the Dutch master whose style is closely associated with that of Pieter de Hooch. This charming panel painted with such exquisite sense of color harmony and feeling for textures has been acquired for the Robert A. Waller Memorial.

Another significant addition to the Coburn Collection of nineteenth-century French paintings is the Girl with Cherries, a sensitive figure study by Éva Gonzalès, Édouard Manet's talented pupil.

A charming early work by Emil Carlsen entitled Nantasket Beach has been purchased by The Friends of American Art. This picture, dated 1876, is executed with a delicacy and sensitiveness which contrasts with the greater vigor of his mature style.

To the Joseph Winterbotham Collection has been added a Woman's Portrait by Pablo Picasso, a fine example of his Cubist style done about 1909. This important phase of his work was not previously represented in the collection.

A notable group of water colors has also been added to the collection. All of these are contemporary American except for a Still Life by Picasso, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Eisendrath, Jr. Satire is brilliantly handled by Adolf Dehn in The New Second-Hand Sofa and by Mervin Jules in Cafeteria Politicians while spirited good humor abounds in Peppino Mangravite's Bullfight. Maurice Gordon's Naples, lively in pattern, and Mitchell Siporin's Homecoming after Flight, a gouache expressive of human trials, complete a group of six purchases from the Olivia Shaler Swan Memorial Fund. Venezuelan Fantasy, a rich and deftly handled water color by Rainey Bennett, was presented by Robert Allerton. The Watson F. Blair Purchase Prize of six hundred dollars was awarded to George Grosz' Cape Cod, No. 12, a notable example of his recent calligraphic style. Reginald Marsh's lively water color, Summer in New York, received the other Watson F. Blair Purchase Prize. A skillfully drawn nude woman is represented standing on a roof top, against a background of the city.

A bronze head of a Pueblo Indian by Maurice Sterne is the gift of Sam A. Lewisohn, and was executed in 1918 while the artist was in Taos, New Mexico. Dr. Daniel D. Van Degrift has presented a bronze group by Malvina Hoffman entitled The Offering. This is an early work done under the influence of Rodin with whom the artist studied. The Arts Club of Chicago is the donor of two pieces of sculpture, The Song, a rhythmically composed group in wood by Raymond Duchamp-Villon and Eve, a bronze by Alfeo Faggi.

The department is preparing a catalogue of the permanent collection of paintings. Since October Mrs. Lois Bassett Browne and Irving S. Tarrant, members of the course in museum training at the University of Chicago, have been working on this catalogue.

As the year opened, two exhibitions of outstanding importance were nearing their closing dates. Half a Century of American Art, the comprehensive retrospective of fifty years of the Institute's Annual American Exhibition, ran from November 16, 1939, to January 7, 1940. Masterpieces of Italian Art Lent by the Royal Italian Government, which opened on November 18, afforded a record number of museum visitors the rare opportunity of seeing most noted examples of painting and sculpture by the greatest Italian artists. This exhibition closed January 10.

Picasso—Forty Years of His Art, organized jointly by the Museum of Modern Art in New York and The Art Institute of Chicago, was shown from February 1 to March 3. This all-inclusive survey, containing some 350 items, was by far the most complete record of Picasso's work ever assembled.

The Forty-fourth Annual Exhibition of Artists of Chicago and Vicinity was held from March 14 to April 14 and the Nineteenth International Exhibition of Water Colors from April 25 to May 26.

From April 17 to June 2 a special exhibition of paintings collected by the late Mrs. R. R. McCormick was arranged in Gallery 53; it also included paintings by Mrs. McCormick herself, for she was well known both as a painter and as a collector.

Six of the galleries in the Summer Exhibitions, July 18 to October 20, were arranged by this department. Three galleries were devoted to the most comprehensive exhibition of Chicago sculpture ever assembled. Two other galleries were hung with groups of four paintings from each of ten Chicago painters whose work represented various trends in present-day styles. One large gallery was installed with interesting work by lesser-known contemporary French painters lent by Chicago collectors.

On November 14 the Fifty-first Annual Exhibition of American Paintings and Sculpture was opened to remain on view until January 5, 1941.

CLASSICAL DEPARTMENT

THE most important event in the history of the Classical Department for many years was the loan of an extraordinarily fine collection of ancient glass by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson. A special gallery has been built for this collection, and, through the generosity of the lenders, cases of new types with lighting specially adapted to the elusive colors of the iridescence of the objects have been provided.

Naturally the collection has been very popular with the visitors; the gallery is seldom without a group of admirers.

Acting Curator of Classical Art

GIFTS

LOANS

Two hundred and ninety-eight pieces of ancient glass lent by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson.

ORIENTAL ART

THE principal activities of the Oriental Department for the current year have centered about reinstallation of the collections. The Persian Gallery was relocated in order that the Chinese and Japanese galleries should be contiguous. The Persian and Japanese galleries were redecorated and rearranged, and with the completion of Gallery H9, which is equipped with glass-enclosed daises for the proper showing of costumes and screens, a continuous circuit of easy transition has been established. Gallery M1, which contains the Buckingham Collection of Chinese miniature porcelains and snuff bottles, has also been redecorated.

The major installations, however, have concerned the adequate display of the superb Chinese bronzes of the Lucy Maud Buckingham Memorial Collection. The location of the bronzes was changed so that they are now in Gallery H13, the first gallery north of the McKinlock Court lobby. As the collection consists of pieces of great rarity and unusual excellence, it was necessary to give a spacious installation resulting in the overflow of the smaller and later bronzes into Gallery H12.

The fine stone Buddhist triad formerly housed in the gallery with the bronzes has been placed at the end of a long vista in Gallery H10, and its impressiveness has been greatly enhanced.

Other major changes in installation were made in Gallery H11 where the early ceramics have been located. The strength of this collection depends largely upon generous loans from Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mr. Russell Tyson. Thanks to their generosity this gallery can hold its own in any company. The Palmer Collection is strong in T'ang figurines, and the Tyson Collection is conspicuous for its well-balanced showing, by superb examples, of the development of ceramic processes from T'ang through the Sung Dynasty. It must be remembered, of course, that the objects were selected primarily for their beauty and character, and that other considerations were secondary.

Early in the year the Japanese Gallery was devoted to a showing of selections from the Frederick W. Gookin Memorial Collection. The quality and variety of the Japanese paintings and prints was very impressive, bringing a realization of its very definite value in the strengthening of our Japanese collections.

Another important event of the year was the exhibition of Sharaku's work in Galleries 25, 52, and 53 (February 1 to March 15, 1940). This exhibition could not have been held without the cooperation of the Art Institute, for the Buckingham Collection is one of the strongest in the world in the works of this rare, enigmatic, and highly appreciated master.

The rearrangement of the collections emphasizes unpleasantly the poverty of our collections of Oriental painting. It is humiliating to find that we are so far behind in a field of such major importance. This blind spot can be attributed in part to three reasons:

- a. There are no important collections of Oriental painting in Chicago.
- b. Few important Oriental paintings come on the market.
- c. When such paintings do come, we are unable to get the funds to purchase them.

The operation of the department is seriously handicapped by the lack of storage facilities adjacent to the Oriental Galleries. As the collections are constantly growing in scope, and the gallery space available is practically static, it becomes increasingly necessary to keep the exhibits in a more or less fluid state, and this is practically impossible under present conditions.

We have been very fortunate in our gifts this year. As usual, Mr. Tyson's benefactions head the list. Of a number of outstanding ceramic objects recently acquired from the Eumorfopoulos Collection, he has presented three pieces and lent nearly a score. The seventeenth-century Japanese scroll paintings presented by Mrs. Patterson are a very important acquisition for they are of a well-known type hitherto unrepresented. The pair of Japanese flower screens of the late seventeenth century, added to the Nickerson Collection, are the first of their kind to come to the Institute collections, and are excellent examples.

One of the most beautiful Persian rugs in America, a fine "Polonaise" carpet of the seventeenth century, has been presented by Mrs. R. E. Danielson and Mrs. Chauncey McCormick for the Charles Deering Collection. It is a notable addition to our Near-Eastern section.

PRINTS AND DRAWINGS

MRS. JAMES WARD THORNE'S magnificent gift of 674 early nineteenth-century illustrated books mainly of English origin, has made this the most important collection of its kind in the United States, particularly on account of the exquisite condition of every book, frequently in period bindings and containing original drawings, letters, or other documents.

An important group of modern French drawings was donated by Mr. and Mrs. William N. Eisendrath, Jr. and an anonymous donor added two fine lithographs by Max Kahn.

Purchases of particular importance were reported in the Bulletin, for instance the unique copy of the Microcosm of London with original drawings by Pugin and Rowlandson acquired for the Charles Deering collection. Purchases were made to correct certain weaknesses. Rare wood engravings by Gauguin, prints by Lautrec and Daumier were acquired, as well as some contemporary American prints showing the prevailing trend toward color lithography. To the Federal Art Project of Illinois we are indebted for their ready cooperation.

A reclassification of the print collection by centuries and within each century by country has been undertaken so that most closely related material will no longer be scattered throughout the print cabinets and store-rooms. A more detailed documentation for each print and drawing is being assembled. Catalogue cards containing this information will be made available to visitors as fast as possible. Naturally this cannot be completed within reasonable length of time unless adequate help becomes available. In this way it is hoped to fill a pressing need of this department.

Meanwhile the Works Progress Administration has come to our assistance by providing a regular office clerk through the Library Project and by assigning two men through the Federal Art Project of Illinois to mat and hinge prints and drawings. It will now be possible to accomplish a considerable portion of the work which could not be done hitherto and a grateful acknowledgment of our debt to the Works Progress Administration is hereby tendered.

The two galleries of drawings, Nos. 33 and 29 on the second floor, have been redecorated and reinstalled and the drawings rematted.

On March 9 Miss Dorothy Stanton resigned and was succeeded by Miss Ruth Kellogg. The retirement of Mrs. Lilian Combs, Acting Curator, was a particular loss to her many friends in Chicago. Under her leadership the print and drawing collection made decisive and prominent progress. Mrs. Combs was succeeded by the present incumbent on March 16.

Gratitude is further due Dr. Ulrich Middeldorf for completing his selective catalogue of drawings in the collection. It is planned to publish this catalogue in the near future, and the publication will be an important instrument of reference.

The department is also much indebted to Miss Marie Swift who has been doing volunteer work throughout the year and has carried out the duties assigned to her as faithfully as if she were a regular staff member.

Furthermore, three students, Miss Mary Schell and Irving S. Tarrant this summer, and Miss Betty Quinn this fall, have devoted much time to study and volunteer work in this department. Miss Quinn is the first student to enroll from the University of Chicago for a credit course in museum cataloguing and general museum practice.

The department is also happy to announce that Lessing J. Rosenwald of Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, today one of the most prominent print collectors in the United States, has consented to join the Art Institute's Committee on Prints and Drawings.

Visitors to the Print Room numbered 13,224 and to the Print Galleries 69,073.

Whenever there is considerable growth in a public print collection this fact is usually hailed with great satisfaction. It should be emphasized, however, that such a growth may finally lead to a situation where the proper care of a collection is jeopardized. Congestion brings about other problems besides those of physical upkeep. Difficulties may take on proportions making it impossible for the staff to handle the material efficiently. Cataloguing becomes almost an impossibility. Last but not least the material cannot be studied under adequate conditions by the public for whose use it is accumulated and kept.

A staff of three is required to handle, catalogue, and have instantly available accurate information concerning some fifty thousand works of art. This is possible only when every item has been properly catalogued and the necessary preliminary research has been completed. This condition does not differ greatly from that which has prevailed in most of the great American museum collections and still prevails in most European museums. The rapid growth of the Art Institute's collection, however, makes the situation increasingly difficult and even dangerous. Many prints and drawings matted years ago show signs of deterioration due to grime, humidity, and chemically impure mat material. This is particularly deplorable here in view of the steadily increasing interest being manifested by students and the general public.

An analysis of the situation will show the following minimum desiderata: A sufficient number of trained assistants; adequate maintenance funds, and personnel to cut mats, hinge, file and generally handle the material. Moreover, we need a well-planned stackroom, a comfortable and attractive print study room, galleries in proper scale and expertly lighted.

The Curator believes that a solution has been found, if funds can be raised to carry out the plans made in collaboration with the Superintendent of Buildings and Art Institute architects.

The department collaborated with other departments by two articles written for the Bulletin in January and March by Dorothy Stanton; one article by the Curator in October; it loaned items from the Walter Stanton Brewster Collection of Whistleriana to Miss Abbot for the visit of the Chicago Library Club on October 10; and librarians were received by the Department the same evening; prints were also lent for lectures.

DECORATIVE ARTS

TO a great extent the year has been one of adjustment. In spite of this, however, much has been accomplished mainly owing to the generosity and interest of the department's many friends and the loyal cooperation of the staff.

The collections have been enriched by a number of important presentations. Outstanding among these are the Vertumnus and Pomona tapestry of early sixteenth-century Brussels make, and a remarkable fragment of fifteenth-century Italian silk both given by Mrs. Charles H. Worcester. The first important acquisitions to the department's collection of English silver were through the generosity of Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed who gave a rare set of English apostle spoons with a number of examples of other early types, and, later in the year, a notable double-handled covered cup by Paul Lamerie.

In the field of textiles an embroidered linen altar cloth, German-Swiss, dated 1583, was presented by Miss Edna Frueh and Mrs. Alice L. Cavanagh in memory of Alfred Frueh, and a number of other interesting items were presented by Mrs. Edward Bok and Mrs. Margaret Hately Lester.

In the field of furniture two fine English pieces, an Adam sofa and a Sheraton sidetable, were given by Mr. David Adler and Mr. Samuel A. Marx respectively. The latter also presented later in the year a notable English lacquered chest on stand of the early eighteenth century. A welcome gift of silver and furniture was also received from Miss Emily Allen Frake.

Other miscellaneous items are noted in the accompanying lists.

The most important item acquired by purchase is a pair of French eighteenth-century ormolu chenets (andirons) of superb quality which were acquired from the Wentworth Greene Field Memorial Fund.

In all 106 objects were acquired by gift and four by purchase.

We received 274 objects on loan. In addition to the loans for special exhibitions, the department benefited from the generous terms of the donation of the Mabel Brady Garvan Collection to Yale University. Through the friendly cooperation of its administration, a long term loan of six pieces of American furniture and twenty-five examples of fine American silver has been received. Most of these items are now on exhibition in Galleries L3 and A7.

Six special exhibitions have been held during the year by the department. Under the active auspices of the Antiquarian Society an exhibition of English Domestic Silver of the Eighteenth Century was organized from private collections in Chicago. The generous response to request for loans not only made possible an exhibition of exceptional quality, but the retention of half the exhibition for an additional period of six months.

As its contribution to the summer activities of the Institute, the department arranged from its permanent collections an exhibition illustrating the history of transfer printing in ceramics during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. In October a selection from the collection of American handwoven coverlets, largely the gift of the late Frank W. Gunsaulus, was placed on exhibition in the Agnes Allerton galleries. A special exhibition of Rookwood pottery was followed late in the year by an exhibition of Bennington and Pennsylvania German pottery from the department's collections.

Through the generosity of Mrs. James Ward Thorne a remarkable new series of American Rooms in Miniature was installed in the new Allerton Wing and opened to the public on December 6 following a reception in honor of Mrs. Thorne given by the Antiquarian Society on December 5. This series, which really constitutes a history of American interior design, will remain on view for a period of at least six months. Quite apart from its own tremendous educational importance, the exhibition is helping to call the attention of the public to the other collections in the department.

During the year eleven galleries have been redecorated and, in most cases, reinstalled.

Early in the summer the departmental staff moved into its new quarters generously provided by Robert Allerton, adjacent to the wing donated by him last year. This space includes a textile study room, a large general office, a curator's office, and a much needed workroom and laboratory facilities. No better way of increasing the working efficiency of the department could have been devised, and every member of the staff feels personally indebted to Mr. Allerton for his thoughtful regard.

The staff was strengthened by the return of Miss Helen Mitchell in July after a year's special study at Yale University. In order to facilitate the work of the department Miss Mildred Davison has been placed in special charge of the collections of textiles and glass and Miss Mitchell, those of ceramics and metalwork.

Intensive work on the reorganization and relabeling of the Lucy Maud Buckingham collections of lustre ware and cottage ornaments, the gift of Miss Kate Sturges Buckingham, is under way and should be completed by the end of the next year.

An enormous amount of work faces the department staff in its endeavor to make the collections of the fullest use to the community. This task is being met with confidence in the assurance that these efforts are receiving the full and sympathetic support of the Membership and administration of the Institute.

GALLERY OF ART INTERPRETATION

THE chief activity of the Gallery of Art Interpretation for the year was the preparation and installation of educational exhibitions. The first was called Understanding Picasso—A Study of His Styles and Development, and was arranged as a supplement to the comprehensive Picasso—Forty Years of His Art shown at the same time in the temporary galleries. In the supplementary exhibition a series of screens was set up, each painted a different color to represent one period of Picasso's development. On these backgrounds were placed enlarged photographs of key paintings from each period which were surrounded by smaller photographs of sculptures, paintings, etc., showing similar styles, devices, and conventions. The exhibition attracted thousands of visitors and in response to many requests a portfolio of twenty-two sheets, summarizing its contents, was published by the Art Institute in collaboration with the University of Chicago Press. This publication, of which an edition of two thousand copies was issued on August 13, has been well received and favorably reviewed by discriminating critics. The material for Understanding Picasso was lent to the Cincinnati Museum in September and October at the time of their showing of the large section of the Picasso exhibition on circuit.

The second exhibition, called Lines That Live, was lent by the Division of Education of the Philadelphia Museum of Art and consisted of a group of large photographs of works of art from different periods, all interesting from the point of view of line.

The third exhibition, an annual showing of the work done by children in the Saturday classes of the Art Institute School, was made more interesting this year by having a label on each entry suggesting the child's intention or stating his comments on his work.

The fourth exhibition was a showing of Poster Design, one of the exhibits prepared in 1939 by the Department of Education working under a grant from the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation. This was one of the six which had been shown in high schools in Chicago during the 1939-1940 school year.

The fifth exhibition, called Self Portraiture through the Ages, consisted of about fifty large photographs of self portraits from the ancient Egyptian era to the present. This was also sent from the Division of Education of the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

The Curator arranged five paintings with material related to them for the Masterpiece of the Month and two changes in the Recent Accessions Gallery; she also wrote one article for the Bulletin of the Art Institute

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

IN comparing the activities of the Department of Education for 1940 with those of 1939, development in two directions is noticeable—the greater amount of work offered free to the public, and a marked increase in the number of groups from adjacent towns visiting the Art Institute and making use of its guide service. The first has been possible because of financial aid given by individuals interested in extending the free guidance, and, though the sums given are relatively small, if contrasted with more munificent endowments from foundations or large bequests, they permit hundreds of children to profit by their visits to the Art Institute. The second can perhaps be traced directly to the exhibition of the Masterpieces of Italian Art, for the publicity in connection with that exhibit brought our collections to the attention of communities who heretofore seemed unaware of them. Because of the increase in free work, the attendance during 1940 is over fifty per cent more than in 1939. An annual attendance of 36,739 on an extremely limited budget and with a small staff is an indication not only of the vital part this department is playing in the activities of the Art Institute but of what it might do had it the much-needed funds for its proper development.

The Florence Dibell Bartlett Series, Adventures in the Arts, given for thirty evenings during the year in Fullerton Hall, continues to draw the same large audiences that it has in the first five years of its existence. A questionnaire brought out some interesting facts: that a majority of those attending are college trained, that they come from every walk of life and represent a great variety of professions and occupations, though the ma-majority are secretaries. Their favorite subject is painting. Their attendance is gratifyingly regular, and their taste for more solid material in the lectures is noticeably sharper. Our gratitude to Miss Bartlett for making this activity possible cannot be sufficiently expressed.

The Sunday afternoon free gallery lectures continued with full attendance and the constantly reiterated appreciation from the listeners for the hours so spent in the galleries is proof of their value.

Gifts to the department include $1,000 from Miss Bartlett; $1,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Marx; from the Municipal Art League the sum of $1,140.37 to be known as the Mrs. Emily S. Grower Fund, the interest only to be used. The department is grateful to the Municipal Art League for this new gift. Miss Marie Swift gave $150 for work with children, and a donor who appreciates the value of the guide service for children gave anonymously the sum of $120 to be used for children who could not otherwise come. Since $120 will permit between two and three thousand children to enjoy museum guidance, the value of such a gift is easily seen.

The department published in December a Children's Gallery Book written by Mrs. Marie Zoé Greene. Encouraged by the success of her book on the Italian Exhibition, we were desirous of publishing a similar book on some of the works in the permanent collections. Mrs. William A. Nitze generously contributed $400 towards its expense. It is a departure in the presentation of art to children, is profusely illustrated, and may be purchased for fifteen cents.

The high school project made possible by a grant from the General Education Board was ably carried on during the first year by Miss Florence Arquin and Laurance J. Longley. Twelve exhibits have been circulated in twelve high schools specially chosen for their different social backgrounds. Lectures were given to the students in the schools and groups voluntarily attending the museum were shown collections which correlated with the school exhibitions. Through questionnaires and careful tabulation of the answers by Miss Arquin, some of the preliminary work has been done on the data necessary in forming conclusions about the attitude of the high school student towards art.

The free Children's Gallery Hour on Saturday mornings and afternoons has been well attended.

In addition to the activities described above, the department has continued to offer its regular series of lectures, both day and evening; gallery tours for clubs and organizations, for school groups of all academic levels; and private guide service. Miss Parker has given lectures at the City Junior Colleges in their Fine Arts and Humanities Courses, and several lectures for clubs and art associations in Chicago as well as in other cities. These extra-mural lectures extend the use of the educational facilities of the Institute and bring this museum to the attention of groups of people who are unfamiliar with our collections.

Mrs. Royal F. Munger has generously and effectively given her time and experience as a volunteer worker in the department.

The needs of the Department of Education for more efficient functioning still remain acute. It is impossible to broaden its activities with its present budget. To compare favorably with the Educational Departments of the other great art museums in this country an endowment is much needed. A larger staff, a more adequate lecture room, an office and study for the instructors are greatly desired.

And yet, in spite of the handicaps under which it works, the department is helping the public to understand and enjoy art in a way that a statistical report can never indicate. A broader and more tolerant viewpoint on the part of those attending the lectures is one proof of the value of the work. Constant and numerous expressions, both verbal and written, and the continuous attendance of the same persons over a period of months and years are some of the sources which enable us to evaluate what we are endeavoring to do. Particularly in these days of doubt and discord is it important to help people find one way to renew and cherish the spiritual values of life. For this purpose the field of art is an inexhaustible source, and the Department of Education is serving, in a measure, to direct the public toward it.

HIGH SCHOOL PROJECT—GENERAL EDUCATION BOARD GRANT

In addition to the six high schools chosen for participation in the project of 1939-40, the following six schools have been included for the 1940-41 activities:

Austin High School	Girls' Latin School of Chicago
Carl Schurz High School	Lindblom High School
Chicago Latin School for Boys	Tilden Technical High School

The following six new exhibits have been assembled for rotation in the high schools:

Animals in Ceramics	Housing
Creative Lettering	Theatrical Arts
Making of a Fresco	Good and Bad Design in Objects under 25¢

These exhibits were assembled by Miss Florence Arquin and Laurance J. Longley, instructors for the project.

One hundred and nine lectures were given in the high schools participating in the project by Laurance J. Longley, with an attendance of 23,355.

One hundred and fifty-four groups from the high schools visited the museum to attend lectures by Miss Florence Arquin, with an attendance of 2,159. The lectures in the Institute were suspended from September through December, 1940, because of an enforced absence of Miss Arquin on account of illness.

MEMBERSHIP AND EXTENSION
LECTURER'S DEPARTMENT

THE lectures on the enjoyment and appreciation of the arts and the sketch classes provided for the Members during 1940 have had the largest attendance in the history of the department.

Because of the unusual interest of the Picasso exhibition, many lecture subjects have dealt with contemporary art—especially Spanish and American. The Art-through-Travel lectures have considered for the most part the Western Hemisphere, with particular accent on Mexico.

Seven Membership programs a week for thirty-two weeks have been held in Fullerton Hall, and three gallery tours for Members—each of the thirty-two weeks—have been conducted in the permanent and current exhibitions.

The Clinic of Good Taste series has continued on Monday afternoons and evenings with stage settings arranged by many of Chicago's leading furniture merchants and interior decorators. Of special value were the settings and demonstrations contributed by Chicago members of the American Institute of Decorators, and the recurltaining of the Fullerton Hall stage has provided a helpful background for them. The clinic feature of these programs has been developed, and a shopping adviser has been added to the staff.

The Friday afternoon lectures on the fine arts considered modern art in comparison with the techniques and achievements of the Old Masters. The languages of the arts have been more closely correlated, especially those of music and painting.

The Friday evening lectures on Art-through-Travel have been the most popular with the Members. They have been repeated on Sunday afternoons when the public has been admitted for a small entrance fee. The capacity of Fullerton Hall is taxed for these programs. The new projection booth and modern equipment for color motion pictures and for sound projection have made possible the use of a wide range of illustrative material. A beaded screen of the latest type is the gift of Mrs. Walter S. Brewster.

The adult Members' sketch classes, held Monday evenings and Friday mornings, have had a constantly increasing enrollment, and the accomplishments have been startling. A number of these novices have had pictures accepted for current exhibitions in and about Chicago. The Monday evening class was held for thirty-two weeks, and the Friday morning course continued without interruption throughout the year. During the summer there was once a month a demonstration of painting or a lecture on contemporary art.

The lecture class on Saturday afternoons for the children of Members has shown the largest increase in attendance of any feature of the Membership program. The children were shown the processes and the uses of certain art mediums and also studied important artists. Problems were assigned for work at home, and the inventive, creative originality of the child was encouraged with amazing results, a proof of the rapidly growing American art-consciousness. This important activity won the admiration and esteem of Mrs. James Nelson Raymond in 1926 when she established a fund for its continuance. Six additional Saturday morning sketch classes in mid-winter and eight on Tuesday mornings in the summer were also given to the children of Members.

Under the James Nelson Raymond Lecture Fund for Children of Members and of Public Schools a twenty-six week scholarship class for eighth-grade pupils from Chicago's 333 public elementary schools has been held on Saturday mornings. A similar scholarship class for pupils from Chicago's forty-one public high schools has been held on twenty-six Monday afternoons. These three juvenile classes have produced some 17,000 assigned drawings—all of which have been marked and criticized by the staff of the department. Special honor students of the two public school classes were presented with tickets for the mid-winter and summer sketch classes held for the children of Members.

André Martin of Waller High School was this year's outstanding pupil, winning the Anna Louise Raymond Scholarship for one year in the academic school of the Art Institute. Fern Abell of Harper High School was second, and was awarded a scholarship for the summer school of the Art Institute.

The Members with the assistance of the Junior League gave three teas and receptions in the Clubroom to exhibiting and visiting artists.

SCHOOL

AT the close of its fiscal year in June, 1940, the financial condition of the School showed a modest improvement over 1939 which made possible a reduction of $4,100 in the School bank loan taken out to cover deficits in former years. While endeavoring to preserve a stable operating budget, however, the task of building up certain departments in the School, as well as of maintaining adequately its plant and personnel has become more exacting, and the close of the calendar year brings into sharp focus the problems which confront us. The need for endowment of key faculty positions is still a major need in the School. Also, replacements and additions in physical equipment, long postponed in some of the older studios of the School, become increasingly necessary. Any comparison of studio conditions in these parts of the Art Institute with those of more recently built schools must end in a tribute to the faculty for its share in making the spiritual prevail over the material in the lives of our young students. It is a pleasure to report the consistent cooperation of faculty, students, and administrative staff in solving the serious problems arising from limited income and complicated by an ambition to make this School preeminent in its particular educational field.

Through the generosity of a friend, the outstanding addition of a course in Mural Painting was made possible this year. The School has obtained the part-time teaching services of Peppino Mangravite for this class, and a most auspicious beginning has been made under his guidance and with the assistance of Merlin Pollock and other faculty members. Faculty appointments for the year include Quill Monroe in advanced Dress Design, Paul Schweikher and L. Morgan Yost in Architecture, Cameron Booth in Painting (Summer 1940), as well as other artists and designers familiar to the School through their past association with it.

During the summer four darkrooms were built in the School for the accommodation of a growing Photography class, and a new arrangement effected in the Industrial Design area to permit a more efficient integration of shop and drafting-room space. Additional equipment for these departments is still needed to bring them up to their full effectiveness.

In Blackstone Hall and the School Lobby, in exhibition space controlled by the School, a total of nineteen exhibitions were held during the year, many of them of general interest to all museum visitors. The School circulated seven traveling exhibitions in five states and in Washington, D. C. There is also an increasing demand for exhibitions of work produced in the Saturday Children's Classes, and a number of such exhibitions have been circulated. Under the able direction of Miss Laura Bannon, the work of the junior students continues to gain in interest and importance. The Annual Exhibition of student work was held in June.

Other administrative activities include the extension of our student personnel service in directions established several years ago, notably in student health and housing, counseling, as well as in employment aid, vocational advice, and financial and personal help. The Master's Degrees in Fine Arts and Art Education, announced last year, have proved a source of considerable interest to present and former students. At present sixteen candidates are actively engaged in graduate study toward these degrees in the School, and forty-one graduate students are completing requirements for our graduate degrees through summer and supplementary college study. Seven Master's Degrees, the first to be awarded, were given to qualified students at the annual commencement in June.

The Glee Club has continued to function under Mr. Kelley's able direction to the enjoyment of students and gallery visitors alike. Four concerts were given during the school year.

The successful operation of the Mellie Manlove Rea Home for men students prompted, during the summer, a serious effort on the part of a group of women students to establish a cooperative residence for themselves. This effort has been abandoned temporarily because of inadequate financial backing, but it demonstrates a need which the School could recognize to its own and its students' advantage.

The School received during the year the announcement of a generous bequest of $100,000 from the estate of Mrs. Mary Morley Sellers which is to take the form of faculty endowment in the departments of decorative art or painting. The School benefits greatly through this type of gift, which we hope will be supplemented in time by other endowment funds of the same character. The perennial generosity of many friends of the School, including among others Miss Gracia M. F. Barnhart, The Chicago Woman's Aid, The Chicago Woman's Ideal Club, The Junior League of Chicago, and Mrs. Charles H. Worcester, is a large factor in the effective operation of our classes.

A loan fund for students, offered provisionally by R. T. Miller, was regretfully declined for the present because of the School's inability to raise the necessary matching funds. Mr. Miller's generosity should, however, become a matter of record.

The School's constant plea for faculty endowment and an adequate retirement plan is once more set down as vital in the performance of our expected functions. In addition the School needs space within its own jurisdiction for use as a lecture and recreation room for students. Such a room, if properly planned, could be extremely versatile in use, and would serve the dual purpose of improving lecture facilities and providing space for all the supplementary activities necessary in the lives of our students, thus removing from the Museum the necessity of reserving the Clubroom and other Museum areas for student use.

Problems facing the world in general are reflected in the School of the Art Institute as they are in other educational institutions. Traveling Fellowship students, restrained from traveling in both Europe and Asia, are turning their attention to the cultures of South and Central America and report enthusiastically of their travels south of our borders. The place of the School in the National Defense program is still undefined, but there is little doubt that art students will be useful in that direction as they have been on past occasions. The Selective Service Act has already affected the plans of some students, but the School does not as yet know what ultimate effect this and other national measures will have on its plans. The Government's attitude to date has been very emphatic in its encouragement of continued educational effort, and apparently national agencies are well aware of the danger of disrupting established institutions in building the future of the country.

The School is prepared, in 1941, to take whatever measures may be necessary for the efficient conduct of its affairs. We acknowledge our appreciation of the help given us by other departments of the Art Institute, by individuals, and by interested groups, and we trust that in the growing awareness of the secure place of art in an uncertain world, the productive agents, students and professional workers alike, will not be forgotten.

NORMAN L. RICE

THE GOODMAN THEATRE

THE past year has been the most successful in the history of the Goodman Theatre since the inception of the Members' Series in 1930. Due in part to the normal growth of interest on the part of the Membership, in part to the fortunate selection of plays, the audience increased from 52,621 for the preceding year to 66,874 for the year just ended. The plays produced were Holiday by Philip Barry, Our Town by Thornton Wilder, Family Portrait by Lenore Coffee and William Joyce Cowen, George and Margaret by Gerald Savory, Merry Wives of Windsor by William Shakespeare, He Who Gets Slapped by Leonid Andreyev, Laburnum Grove by J. B. Priestley, Goodbye Again by A. Scott and G. Haight.

The Children's Theatre attendance paralleled the growth in the Members' Series, the attendance for the year being 17,586 as against 12,500 for the year preceding. The plays produced were Daniel Boone, Cinderella, and Robinson Crusoe, all dramatized by Charlotte B. Chorpenning; and Little Women, dramatized by Marian de Forest.

The Dance Series had three programs which were given for a total of twelve performances. The dancers who appeared in the series were: The Katherine Dunham Dancers, Hanya Holm, and the Block Dancers associated with the Saidenberg Symphonietta. The total attendance for the series was 7,334.

During the year an attempt was made to enlarge the scope of Membership entertainment by the inclusion of musical programs. As the response of the audience to these programs proved inadequate, they will not be attempted again during the current year.

The total number of productions in the Goodman Theatre for the year was 186: Members' Series, 111; Children's Theatre, 33; Dance Series, 12; Music Series, 6; Studio Series, 24.

There has been a slight drop in registration in the School of Drama. However, the total number of students is still considerably in excess of what would constitute a desirable maximum.

The financial condition of the Goodman Theatre is satisfactory.

RYERSON AND BURNHAM LIBRARIES

BOTH the Ryerson and Burnham Libraries have been remembered by many friends during the year. Mrs. George A. Carpenter presented a number of valuable books, among them Histoire Générale de la Tapisserie, 1878, by Guiffrey, and works by P. G. Hamerton. Alfred E. Hamill gave The Drawings in the Fogg Museum of Art by Agnes Morgan and P. J. Sachs, and a group of volumes illustrating Russian decorative arts. Mrs. James Ward Thorne has added to her gift of source books on English furniture design the third edition of Chippendale's The Gentleman and Cabinet-Maker's Director. From Walter S. Brewster came several de luxe publications of Schnackenberg, Rabajoi, Raemaekers, and others, and from Miss Elizabeth Day McCormick the richly illustrated Apocalypse published in her name, A Greek Corpus of Revelation Iconography by H. R. Willoughby with a volume of History and Text by C. C. Colwell. Other generous donors were Joseph Ryerson, Miss Cora Vawter, Henry Field, Mrs. C. B. Borland, Dell Quest, G. C. Elmslie, The Cliff Dwellers, and The John Crerar Library. The Library is indebted for valuable assistance to the Newberry Library, The John Crerar Library, The Chicago Public Library, the University of Chicago Libraries, and to the Library of Congress.

Valuable indexing and records have been made by WPA workers.

The Trustees have provided much-needed shelving for 250 valuable folios in the Burnham Library by a series of movable units. The addition of 430 feet of shelving to the Ryerson stack has made possible the rearrangement of the 18,000 books stored there with space for several years' growth.

According to a recent survey of college libraries, those institutions maintaining the best standing have regularly doubled their number of volumes every fifteen years. The Ryerson Library, starting in 1884 with about two hundred volumes, and the Burnham Library in 1914 with 1,560 volumes, have each exceeded this estimate. The Ryerson Library has of recent years held to this mark only through exchange of publications with other museums and by gifts. The limited funds now available must be used chiefly for subscriptions to periodicals and for the most essential books of reference.

The Union List of Serials, a catalogue of periodicals held by important United States libraries, is an indispensable reference tool. The Ryerson and Burnham records will appear in the forthcoming enlarged edition, thanks to a special grant for this purpose.

Under the auspices of the Department of Fine Arts of the University of Chicago, a union catalogue of art books in Chicago has just been started. The technical work will be accomplished as a W. P. A. project, while a supervisor familiar with the subject matter has been provided by a Carnegie grant.

The Libraries supplied information for many publications of the Art Institute from news releases to the Picasso and Goya catalogues.

A room devoted to the Auditorium building in commemoration of its fiftieth anniversary formed one of the summer exhibitions. The selection and arrangement of material was made by Mrs. Herzog in cooperation with the Institute. Special thanks are due to the Auditorium Building Corporation and to Williams and Meyer Company.

Questions from outside show surprising variety. Students of interior decoration consulted color prints of Cézanne, Picasso, Gauguin, and Matisse in order to "design a room around a picture." Illustrations of "great conquests" for murals in a Chicago office building; the "evolution of the onion-shaped dome"; material about Frank Lloyd Wright for a Harvard thesis were subjects of inquiry. A building concern reported that information found in the Burnham Library had aided in placing an order worth a million dollars.

Without the Photograph and Slide section, many questions could not be answered. This supplements the book resources as well as circulating some 70,000 items a year for lectures, study, and commercial use.

In the past ten years the only floor space added for library use has been 420 square feet, which barely suffices to house the actual number of lantern slides. During this period the collection of photographs and other prints has increased by 67,000 items. Approximately 12,000 additional items are in storage unavailable for ordinary use. A room of at least 1,070 square feet would be required to provide for present holdings. Under conditions now prevailing the reasonable demands of the staff and of the public cannot be supplied, and all users suffer from the inconvenience of crowded quarters.

DEPARTMENT OF BUILDINGS

AMONG outstanding physical and structural improvements during the year should be mentioned the building of an office unit in the Department of Decorative Arts, the construction of a room for the telephone switchboard, improvements in Fullerton Hall, and the installation of the miniature American rooms by Mrs. James Ward Thorne in Gallery A12 of the Allerton Wing. Extensive repairs were also made on the entire roof of Gunsaulus Hall.

THE OFFICE UNIT IN THE DEPARTMENT OF DECORATIVE ARTS

Robert Allerton, a Vice-President, generously provided funds for the erection of a Decorative Arts office unit. This building, which is of brick construction and approximately eighty-one feet long by thirty-two feet wide by fifteen feet high, is located in the north end of Court F and adjoins the Agnes Allerton Wing. In consultation with Mr. Rogers, Curator of the department, plans were drawn and submitted to Mr. Allerton who approved them in March. Work was begun immediately. The building was finished and ready for occupancy early in June. The space arrangement provides for a textile study room, a general office, a curator's office, and workrooms. It is needless to say how much we are indebted to Mr. Allerton for this splendid building, as it now for the first time enables the entire Decorative Arts Department to be housed in one unit.

A ROOM FOR THE TELEPHONE SWITCHBOARD

For many years the Institute had felt the need for a larger telephone switchboard and adequate space to house it. After studying Mr. Burkholder's suggestion to build a room above the passage to the present main office, with Holabird and Root, Architects, it was found possible to erect a room in accordance with the suggestion. Work was started in June and the room finished and put into use on October 28. The telephone service has been greatly improved by this change.

IMPROVEMENTS IN FULLERTON HALL

The increased demand for illustrated lectures in Fullerton Hall revealed the urgent need for a modern projection booth. Plans were made, approved and the booth built during the summer. It is fully equipped with the latest improvements for the projection of motion pictures, slides, and for spotlights; it is fireproof and has the best automatic fire-prevention devices.

Fullerton Hall was further improved by the installation of an up-to-date service switchboard equipped with mercoid switches which permit all lights to be controlled either from the stage or the projection booth, thereby conforming to the fire ordinance.

Additional improvements made in the hall include new draperies and a new daylight glass-bead projection screen, the latter the gift of Mrs. Walter S. Brewster. This screen is of the very latest type and on it kodachrome slides will be projected more satisfactorily than heretofore. These physical improvements together with the new decorative treatment will add materially to the comfort and convenience of Fullerton Hall patrons and incidentally make this hall more attractive for rental purposes.

THE ROBINSON COLLECTION OF ANCIENT GLASS

Show cases for the Robinson Ancient Glass exhibition, begun last year, were finished in June and the gallery was opened to the public early in July. The exhibition and its installation brought forth much favorable comment which must be attributed to the superb planning and painstaking supervision of Charles Fabens Kelley, Assistant Director, and Acting Curator of Classical Art.

HANDRAIL FOR FRONT STEPS

The installation of two double-bar handrails on the front steps will make it easier for visitors to go up and down them in bad weather.

ROOF REPAIRS AND RENEWALS

For several years we have been confronted with the problem of roof repairs and, unfortunately, due to the large glass roof area, this phase of museum maintenance is still a major problem, although I am happy to report that this year a new roof was installed over the entire bridge gallery. This was a hazardous task because of the difficulty of working directly above the Illinois Central Railroad tracks; every precaution had to be taken to avoid damage to the Illinois Central equipment and property. It was necessary to protect the exhibition galleries and at the same time to keep them available to the public as long as possible. In spite of these complications the stupendous task was completed by November 1, in time for the opening of the Fifty-first Annual American Exhibition of Paintings and Sculpture.

SHOP SECTIONS

The various shops were extremely busy during the year, for in addition to their regular maintenance work they contributed much to the physical and structural changes mentioned earlier in this report. I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the splendid cooperation given by all employees, as in several instances it was necessary for a number of them to postpone their vacations until a later date in order that the museum work and contemplated changes might go on without delay.

The Shipping Room section handled its usual quota of shipments, this year amounting to 21,123 items. One of its most outstanding achievements was the dismantling, packing, and shipping of the priceless exhibition of the Masterpieces of Italian Art which required a great deal of care and packing skill. The shipment arrived at the Museum of Modern Art in New York in perfect condition.

INSTALLATION OF AMERICAN ROOMS IN MINIATURE BY MRS. JAMES WARD THORNE

Late in October a plan was submitted and approved for the arrangement and installation of the miniature rooms in the south end of the Allerton Building. The exhibition, consisting of thirty-six miniature American rooms, was erected early in December. The carpenter work, electric work, and painting were executed by our own force.

DARK ROOMS FOR THE SCHOOL

During the summer the old Academic Office was converted into four small dark rooms. The partitions for these rooms, the electric wiring, etc., were done in our shops.

OTHER MUSEUMS AND GALLERIES

The department has again served architects and inquirers from other museums with advice on various phases of museum mechanics. Among the more notable of these visitors was Ralph Norton, a Governing Life Member, and his architect who conferred with Mr. Rich and the Superintendent concerning gallery arrangement, lighting, wall treatment, and other museum matters relative to the new museum he is erecting at West Palm Beach, Florida. Many other inquiries came to us through Laurance Vail Coleman, Director of the American Association of Museums.

RESTAURANT

During the year 169,347 patrons were served in the cafeteria and at the soda fountain. Although this is 11,000 less than last year, the decrease is explicable, for in 1939 an unusual number of people attended the exhibition of the Masterpieces of Italian Art. It is gratifying to report that the restaurant has again been entirely self-sustaining.

STAFF LOSSES AND CHANGES IN PERSONNEL

In September, the Institute suffered the loss by death of Harry Kenney, guard since April, 1927. Mr. Kenney was a World War veteran.

In June, Lester Hibbard, guard, was granted an extended leave of absence because of heart trouble resulting from his service during the World War. Both vacancies were filled at once.

Mr. J. J. McGlynn, Chief Engineer since June 1, 1936, resigned on June 1. On June 28 we were fortunate in securing the services of George Jordan, formerly Chief Engineer of the Congress Hotel.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The continued expansion of building areas and the growth of curatorial departments greatly increases the demands on the Department of Buildings and these cannot be met satisfactorily in our present crowded quarters. We recommend, therefore, that the present space be enlarged and hope that by some arrangement the area between the Superintendent's office and the Carpenter Shop can be used for expansion. This added space would relieve the congestion and greatly reduce the confusion. The noise from the Illinois Central trains makes the answering of telephone calls and the giving of instructions over the telephone very difficult. This, together with the crowded conditions in the office, prevents the desirable maximum efficiency.

J. FRANCIS McCABE
Superintendent of Buildings

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY

THE year 1940 was very important for the Publicity Department: many new contacts were made, important new names were added to our lists, various plans were carried out, results checked and many different kinds of publicity campaigns conducted. The great exhibition of the Masterpieces of Italian Art which closed with an attendance of 265,679 for fifty-four days (with an average per day of 899 more in Chicago than in New York) was a most important source of new contacts, as was also the superb exhibition of Half a Century of American Art, shown concurrently. The Picasso exhibition during February was widely discussed and the average daily attendance was greater than at the Museum of Modern Art in New York. This department is greatly indebted for these excellent results to the splendid cooperation of the newspapers and radio stations of Chicago, and to the many individuals and agencies, too numerous to mention, in Chicago and vicinity.

PUBLICITY FOR THE MASTERPIECES OF ITALIAN ART

The newspapers of Chicago cooperated to the fullest extent during the exhibition of the Masterpieces of Italian Art: C. J. Bulliet of The Daily News published a generous article daily with a reproduction of some masterpiece. Hume Whitacre, the Rotogravure Editor of The Daily News, issued an unusual photogravure page. The Chicago Daily Times likewise printed a photograph of each work, and featured a prize contest for the hundred-thousandth visitor to the exhibition. The Chicago Herald-American printed excellent candid camera shots of the young and old visitors who enjoyed the exhibition and the Society Department conducted a contest for guessing the final attendance figure. The Chicago Tribune printed a series of twenty-six full-page color reproductions of many of the masterpieces. Full color pages were also used by the Des Moines Register and the Milwaukee Journal. The Italian newspaper, L'Italia, cooperated fully through its city editor, Mr. Charles Bellavia. (All the radio stations in Chicago announced this exhibition over the air.) The Art Institute's radio series, Great Artists, was broadcast on Tuesdays from 4:00 to 4:15 P.M. over WGN. So great was the response to this program, to judge from calls addressed to "Department K" that the Institute telephone switchboard was taxed to capacity.

A special "mat" campaign made illustration of Raphael's Madonna of the Chair available to the suburban newspapers at no expense; over seventy-nine newspapers made use of these cardboard matrices for casting metal into type and reproductions. C. J. Bulliet of the Chicago Daily News obligingly wrote a special article which was used for this purpose.

The General Outdoor Advertising Company, through B. L. Robbins, generously donated a special full-sized billboard (lighted at night) on North Michigan Avenue, near the Wrigley Building. The Museum Tours Committee brought in a party of more than one hundred and arranged for the visits of special groups.

Three hundred and fifty-four publicity inquiries from the entire nation were answered during the year. Conventions held in Chicago were contacted and illustrated folders were given out to visitors. Special news campaigns resulted in definite response to the free lectures during the summer months, and special letters were written to local papers on the subject of school honors and of exhibiting artists. The newspapers and the press services are always responsive to the exhibitions by student janitors in the School: one photograph was reprinted in forty different papers throughout the country. National magazines were interested to learn that the Art Institute had strengthened its defenses by one more police dog. Throughout the year all the newspapers in Chicago sent in reporters and photographers to work up special stories from ideas suggested by the news releases and the Newsletter. A saving in the cost of photographs was made for each of the annual exhibitions by sending proofs of the catalogue cuts to the magazines. The Public Relations Counsel gave talks about the Institute to various groups.

In 1940, during National Art Week, November 25 to December 1, the Art Institute cooperated to the fullest extent in assisting artists to sell their work; the Director of Fine Arts served as Advisory Chairman, and the Public Relations Counsel as a member of the Executive Committee. On the opening day the Art Institute bought the first painting, Fruit and Flowers, by Copeland C. Burg. During the week 623 objects were sold, a total value of $4,772.45.

Special thanks are due the following for their excellent cooperation throughout the year: the newspapers and radio stations of Chicago; Miss Myrtle Stahl, Blair Walliser, and the production staff at WGN; Allen Miller, and members of the Executive Committee of the University Broadcasting Council; and to the Illinois Writers' Project, Work Projects Administration, for research work and completion of radio scripts; the Illinois Art Project, Work Projects Administration; the National Youth Administration; The Tower Information Bureau, Board of Trade Building; Mr. Robert F. Priest of Caples and Company; Eleanor Welch of Time Magazine; The Downtown Shopping News; The Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railroad; The Illinois Central System; The Chicago Rapid Transit Company; The Chicago Motor Coach Company; The Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad Company; The Chicago Park District; The Chicago Public Library. The Works Projects Administration, Ryerson Library, assisted greatly in compiling records for this department.

REPORT OF CATALOGUES AND REPRODUCTIONS

CATALOGUES

THE catalogue sales for the year 1940 totaled $18,265.17. The sale of catalogues of the permanent collections, such as the Handbook of Paintings, Brief Guide to the Collections, Inness Catalogue, Arthur Jerome Eddy Collection of Modern Paintings and Sculpture, Modern Paintings in the Helen Birch Bartlett Memorial, and the four new Picture Books (Paintings and Lithographs by Toulouse-Lautrec, English Doorways and Woodwork of the Eighteenth Century, Chinese Bronzes, Modern Sculpture) totaled $722.71. Approximately $16,593.41 was realized from the sale of exhibition catalogues, such as the Forty-fourth Annual Exhibition by Artists of Chicago and Vicinity, the Nineteenth International Water Color Exhibition, Half a Century of American Art, the Fifty-first Annual Exhibition of American Paintings and Sculpture, the Exhibition of American Rooms in Miniature by Mrs. James Ward

Thorne, Picasso—Forty Years of His Art, and Masterpieces of Italian Art. The catalogue sales for the Picasso and Italian exhibition were outstanding, with a total of $13,408.79.

The Art Institute published four Picture Books on its collections which were placed on sale in July. Since that time approximately one thousand copies have been sold. These are entitled: Paintings and Lithographs by Toulouse-Lautrec, English Doorways and Woodwork of the Eighteenth Century, Chinese Bronzes, and Modern Sculpture. They are the first of a series of such publications to be issued from time to time.

During the coming year we hope to publish a handbook of permanent collections of the Art Institute. This catalogue will emphasize with brief text and many illustrations the various departments of the museum.

The Art Institute sponsored a portfolio, published by The University of Chicago Press, on Understanding Picasso—A Study of His Styles and Development, by Helen F. Mackenzie of the Institute staff. This is a fully illustrated summary of the exhibition which was arranged by Miss Mackenzie in the Gallery of Art Interpretation, last February, during the exhibition of Picasso—Forty Years of His Art. About 850 copies have been sold since publication on August 13.

REPRODUCTIONS

The reproduction sales were $9,631.21 of which $713.86 was from mail orders.

The department sold during the year 94,242 reproductions, postcard size, amounting to $5,197.75. The largest sale in color cards was in the Jaffé series, which amounted to 30,378 for $3,035.35; 51,457 black and white cards were sold for $1,324.50. Four-color card sales totalled 7,138 at $356.90 and 4,400 special Christmas cards were sold for $439.75. The sales in small color prints amounted to 16,976 for $2,000.06. Large color print sales totaled 678 for $633.52. The sale of framed prints numbered 760 at $1,142.90.

During the year the department added the following color prints to its inventory:

Lady at the Piano (size 16½x20)	Renoir
My Mother (size 5¾x10)	Bellows
The Herring Net (size 6¼x10)	Homer
Covered Ceremonial Vessel, Chinese, Ching dynasty (size 6½x14)	Buckingham Collection

Also added to the inventory was a series of twenty-five subjects, black and white (collotypes), postcard size, of paintings, sculpture, decorative arts, and Japanese prints.

The department has been seriously handicapped this past year in not being able to reorder or secure new subjects in the series of Jaffé collotypes on account of the disturbances abroad. However, plans are being made to have this work done in the United States, so the next year will prove more profitable in this respect.

The combined sales of catalogues and reproductions for the year 1940 is $27,896.38, which is an increase of $323.97 over 1939.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF FINANCE AND OPERATION

*To the President and the Governing Members of
The Art Institute of Chicago:*

THE Endowment Funds of the Art Institute for 1940 show an increase of $122,325.66 of which $116,048.89 is restricted and $6,276.77 is unrestricted. The restricted funds, whether acquired by will or deed of gift, are restricted as to principal or interest or both.

The new Endowment Funds are listed below:

The Frederick R. Pfeifer Fund	$28,873.25
Irving K. Pond Fund	5,276.77
Emanuel J. Block Fund	2,500.00
Emily S. Grower Fund	1,243.25
Rev. Thomas F. Farrell Fund	1,000.00

Additions to Endowment Funds were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Worcester Fund	$30,000.00
Life Membership Fund	25,835.23
Kate S. Buckingham Fund	18,375.00
Insurance Fund	8,585.21
Charles Deering Print Fund	508.80
Stella Jerome Prager Fund	74.22
Dearborn Seminary Scholarship Fund	53.93

As activities have been increasing from year to year, there has been the necessity for increases in the Museum Budget. It has been the policy of the Art Institute to operate within its budget. This has been increasingly difficult as security yields have declined during the past few years and the income from the Chicago Park District has been reduced. The additional income from new Endowment Funds has been offset by decreased yields on securities. This serious condition is being faced by all endowed institutions throughout the country and there is no immediate prospect of improvement. The Museum closed the year with a balanced budget, was able to cover the cost of Extraordinary Maintenance and Repair items out of current income, and to apply $10,571.67 on the new roof over Gunsaulus Hall, which was authorized in 1939, and finished in November, at a cost of $53,508.40. Upon authorization of the Trustees, a contract was let in December for a new roof over Blackstone Hall at a cost of $56,290.00. When this is finished, there still will remain a section over the grand staircase which will have to be renewed at a cost of about $25,000.00. Upon completion of this work, the Art Institute will have spent since 1937 about $230,500 for the renewal of roofs, but the entire building and collections will be protected from leaks for many years to come. The natural deterioration of a building like the Art Institute makes necessary constant expenditures for Extraordinary Maintenance and Repairs. Other important repairs and alterations during the year, which amounted to $14,999.88, included the renewal of the wall on the north side of McKinlock Court; repairs in the boiler room; the construction of a telephone switchboard room, and handrails on the front steps. Repairs in Fullerton Hall included the erection of a new fireproof projection booth, renewed wiring throughout the Hall, the installation of a new switchboard, and the purchase of new curtains for the arch and stage. All of these expenditures, amounting to $3,922.72, were paid from the income of the Charles W. Fullerton Fund and Mrs. Brewster's gift toward the new screen.

At the beginning of the year it was estimated that $100,000 would be received from the Chicago Park District, but only $58,130.33 came in. This seriously affected plans for taking care of Extraordinary Maintenance and Repair items. Of the total receipts $133.17 was from 1928 and previous years' taxes; $239.41 from 1929 taxes; $336.71 from 1930 taxes; $253.94 from 1931 taxes; $251.49 from 1932 taxes; $310.71 from 1933 taxes; $933.75 from 1934 taxes; $505.88 from 1935 taxes; $258.67 from 1936 taxes; $539.23 from 1937 taxes; $3,283.51 from 1938 taxes, and $51,083.86 from 1939 taxes. It is expected that receipts from the Chicago Park District will be in the neighborhood of $100,000 during 1941.

The total receipts from the Membership Department were $65,572.73, of which $25,835.23 was added to the Life Membership Fund, making a total of $1,489,890.78 in the fund. The membership of the Art Institute is now 14,341.

Important gifts were made by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Worcester during the year, amounting to $38,432.98, in addition to the paintings which they presented to the Art Institute. Of the cash donations $30,000 was added to the Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Worcester Fund, $132.98 was given to make up a loss in the fund, and Mrs. Worcester gave $8,000 to the Decorative Arts Department; $7,000 for the purchase of a Renaissance tapestry and $1,000 for the purchase of further acquisitions for that department. Another gift of $300 was made toward the work of the School.

The continued generosity of Robert Allerton has provided for an expansion in the Decorative Arts Department which would not otherwise have been possible. During the year Mr. Allerton's gifts, amounting to $32,385.12, included $14,647.86 for the new Decorative Arts offices; $3,574.91 final payment on the interior of the new Allerton galleries;

$2,421.00 for repairs to the Agnes Allerton galleries; $11,621.25 for the maintenance of the new Allerton galleries and $120.10 for the Department.

Another gift that deserves special mention was made by Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed of $15,295.50, which included $11,330 for the purchase of rare English spoons of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and $3,965.50 for a silver cup and cover by Paul Lamerie, 1748.

Other gifts are listed below:

General Education Board, payment on appropriation of $20,700 for educational work	$7,357.31
Mrs. Richard T. Crane, Jr., gift of forty-two Japanese prints which were sold to the Kate S. Buckingham Fund at an appraised value of $2,587.50, which amount, with a further gift of $2,500, was added to the Crane Fund	5,087.50

Cash scholarships and gifts to the School were as follows:

Professorship for Mural Painting, anonymous donor $5,000; Chicago Woman's Ideal Club Scholarship $240; Gracia M. F. Barnhart, Elizabeth French Barnhart Scholarship $175; Elizabeth Stein, for students' material $168.50; Chicago Woman's Aid Scholarship $120; Norman L. Rice, enlarging machine, school photographic studio $100; Paul Trebilcock, purchase prize, School Exhibition $100; Gertrude M. Hadley, for students' material $50.00; Northeast Area of Beta Sigma Phi Society, to help student in the School $45; Chicago Society of Etchers, prize for Students' Exhibition $10; David Seyler, purchase of forge for school $10; Mrs. Milo Winter, purchase of forge for school $10; Norman L. Rice, repairs to radio in Rea House $10; Chicago Culture Club, scholarship $8.

Reproduction sales for the year were $7,970.53 and catalogue sales were $5,599.34. The Restaurant served 172,901 persons.

The tuition receipts in the School are about the same as those of last year at this time. There is a loss of 6% in tuitions of the Day School, but the Evening School has a gain of 19% in student fees and the Saturday School a gain of 17%. Figures on operation of the School indicate that it will close the current academic year with a balanced budget, provided there is no appreciable loss in tuitions for the last half of the year.

The financial condition of the Goodman Theatre appears to be about the same as that of last year. The School registration is smaller than that of last year, which is an advantage as the class rooms were overcrowded. This, however, will have a financial effect on the result at the end of the year. The interest in the Members' plays persists, and the Children's Theatre is flourishing, having played invariably to full houses this year.

RICHARD T. CRANE JR. MEMORIAL FUND

The Art Institute has on hand $58,822.04.

*B. F. FERGUSON MONUMENT FUND

The Northern Trust Company, under the will of Benjamin F. Ferguson, is trustee of the B. F. Ferguson Monument Fund, the income of which, after deducting the taxes, cost of administration, and other liens on the estate, is paid quarterly to The Art Institute of Chicago, for the "erection and maintenance of enduring statuary and monuments in the whole or in part of stone, granite, or bronze, in the parks, along the boulevards or in other public places within the City of Chicago, Illinois, commemorating worthy men or women of America or important events in American history." Income amounting to $641,169.40 is on hand from this fund, represented by cash on deposit or temporarily invested in bonds and notes. To date $712,716.22 has been paid out for monuments, including $35,287.32 for Building Unit "A," and their maintenance.

NEEDLEWORK AND TEXTILE GUILD

The stock on hand of various materials cost $15,000. The investments amounted to $482.50. The balance of cash on hand and in banks amounted to $6,718.56.

The fiscal year ends in October.

The Guild has members in thirty-eight states of the Union, three in Canada, one in South America, and holds monthly meetings on the third Tuesday of every month.

Mrs. G. R. Scott, Executive Secretary.

We have audited the Records of The Art Institute of Chicago from January 1, 1940 to December 31, 1940, and certify that the foregoing statements of Cash Receipts and Disbursements are correct and in accordance therewith.

The balances in bank at December 31, 1940, have been verified by statements received from the depositories.

Satisfactory vouchers were produced for all disbursements.

HOWARD KROEHL & CO.,

Certified Public Accountants

Chicago, January 15, 1941.

*Note: Extra-mural purposes, funds for which are entrusted to The Art Institute of Chicago, but from which it receives no direct benefit, are—besides the four memorial funds mentioned above—the John Barton Payne Fund for the embellishment of South Park Buildings, the Lessing Monument Fund, both of which are listed on page 72 and the Buckingham monuments.

MEMBERSHIP DEPARTMENT

BENEFACTORS AND MEMBERS

BENEFACTORS: Whenever any person shall have contributed fifty thousand dollars or more, or its equivalent, to the Art Institute of Chicago, he shall be named a Benefactor of the Art Institute, and his name shall be printed in each Annual Report under the head of Benefactors of the Art Institute, and also be placed on the Benefactors' tablet in the main hall.

Living Benefactors become Honorary Governing Life Members and are henceforth exempt from dues.

HONORARY MEMBERS: Honorary Members are chosen from among persons who have rendered eminent service to the institution.

GOVERNING MEMBERS only shall have the right to vote for Trustees. The number of Governing Members shall be limited to two hundred and fifty. Each Governing Member pays one hundred dollars upon election and annual dues of twenty-five dollars.

Governing Members, upon payment of four hundred dollars, are exempt from dues and are known as GOVERNING LIFE MEMBERS. The receipts from these funds are invested, and the income only expended.

SUSTAINING MEMBERS: Sustaining Members shall be those who contribute twenty-five dollars or more annually to the Art Institute. They shall be entitled to all the privileges of Governing Members, excepting the right to vote for Trustees.

LIFE MEMBERS: Life Members, upon the payment of one hundred dollars, have all the privileges of Annual Members for life. All receipts from these memberships are invested, and the income only expended.

ANNUAL MEMBERS pay ten dollars a year.

The Art Institute has reciprocal arrangements with a number of other museums, whereby the membership cards of one are honored by the others. This is a valuable privilege when visiting the cities indicated.

Such arrangements are in force with The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York; Milwaukee Art Institute; The Toledo Museum of Art; The Cleveland Museum of Art; Wichita (Kans.) Art Association; The Charleston Museum; Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego; The Minneapolis Institute of Arts; The Newark Museum Association (Newark Museum); The Buffalo Fine Arts Academy (Albright Art Gallery); Art Gallery of Toronto; Grand Rapids Art Gallery; Brooklyn Museum. Admitted also are the members of the American Association of Museums.

All Members are admitted free, with their families and non-resident visiting friends, to all lectures, receptions, and exhibitions given by the Art Institute, with the exception of the Goodman Theatre and the Department of Education classes.

The Institute has suffered through death the loss of the following Governing Members: (asterisked are Governing Life Members) Alfred S. Alshuler, George T. Buckingham, T. P. Hodge*, George M. Reynolds*, Mrs. W. B. Storey, Thomas Eddy Tallmadge*, Mrs. Leverett Thompson*, L. L. Valentine*, Thomas E. Wells*, also the following Sustaining Members: Mrs. F. O. Fredrickson, Vojta F. Mashek, Mrs. Donald D. McKiernan, Mrs. Mabel Wakem, Mrs. Charles Ware.

THE ART INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO

THE ART INSTITUTE of Chicago was incorporated May 24, 1879, for the "founding and maintenance of schools of art and design, the formation and exhibition of collections of objects of art, and the cultivation and extension of the arts of design by any appropriate means." The charter was amended, taking effect on December 1, 1925, and now reads, "for the object to found, build, maintain and operate museums of fine arts, schools and libraries of art, design, and the drama, with authority to confer degrees and grant diplomas; to build, maintain and operate theatres, lecture halls, workshops and lunch rooms in connection therewith, and to carry on appropriate activities conducive to the artistic development of the community; to form, preserve and exhibit collections of objects of art of all kinds; to cultivate and extend the arts of design and the drama by any appropriate means; to provide lectures, instruction, and entertainments including dramatic, operatic and musical performances of all kinds in furtherance of the general purposes of the Institute; to receive in trust property of all kinds and to exercise all necessary powers as trustees for such trust estates whose objects are in furtherance of the general powers of the Institute, or for the establishment or maintenance of works of art in the community."

The museum building upon the lake front, first occupied in 1893, is open to the public every week day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sundays from 12 to 5 p.m. Admission is free to Members and their families and to school children of Illinois at all times, and free to all upon Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays, and public holidays. The Ryerson and Burnham Libraries are open free (a Reader's card grants free admission on pay days) on week days from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Ryerson Library Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays also from 6 to 9:30 p.m.; Burnham Library Mondays 6 to 9:30 p.m.

Patrons may park their cars free on Sunday afternoons in the driveway fronting the Goodman Theatre. Use the East Entrance to the Institute.

The School of the Art Institute, affording comprehensive courses in the fine and applied arts, together with the Kenneth Sawyer Goodman Memorial Theatre, is under the same roof. The latter has a separate entrance at Monroe Street and South Park Drive.

All Members are entitled, with their families and visiting friends, to the use of the Ryerson and Burnham Libraries as well as to admission to all exhibitions, receptions, public lectures, and entertainments given by the Art Institute.

Visitors desiring to see the collections of the museum under guidance may make appointments with the Department of Education.

SUGGESTED FORMS OF BEQUEST

I do hereby give, devise and bequeath to The Art Institute of Chicago, an Illinois corporation, . . . (amounts or objects bequeathed or list of same) for such uses consistent with the purposes of the aforesaid corporation as the trustees thereof shall decide.

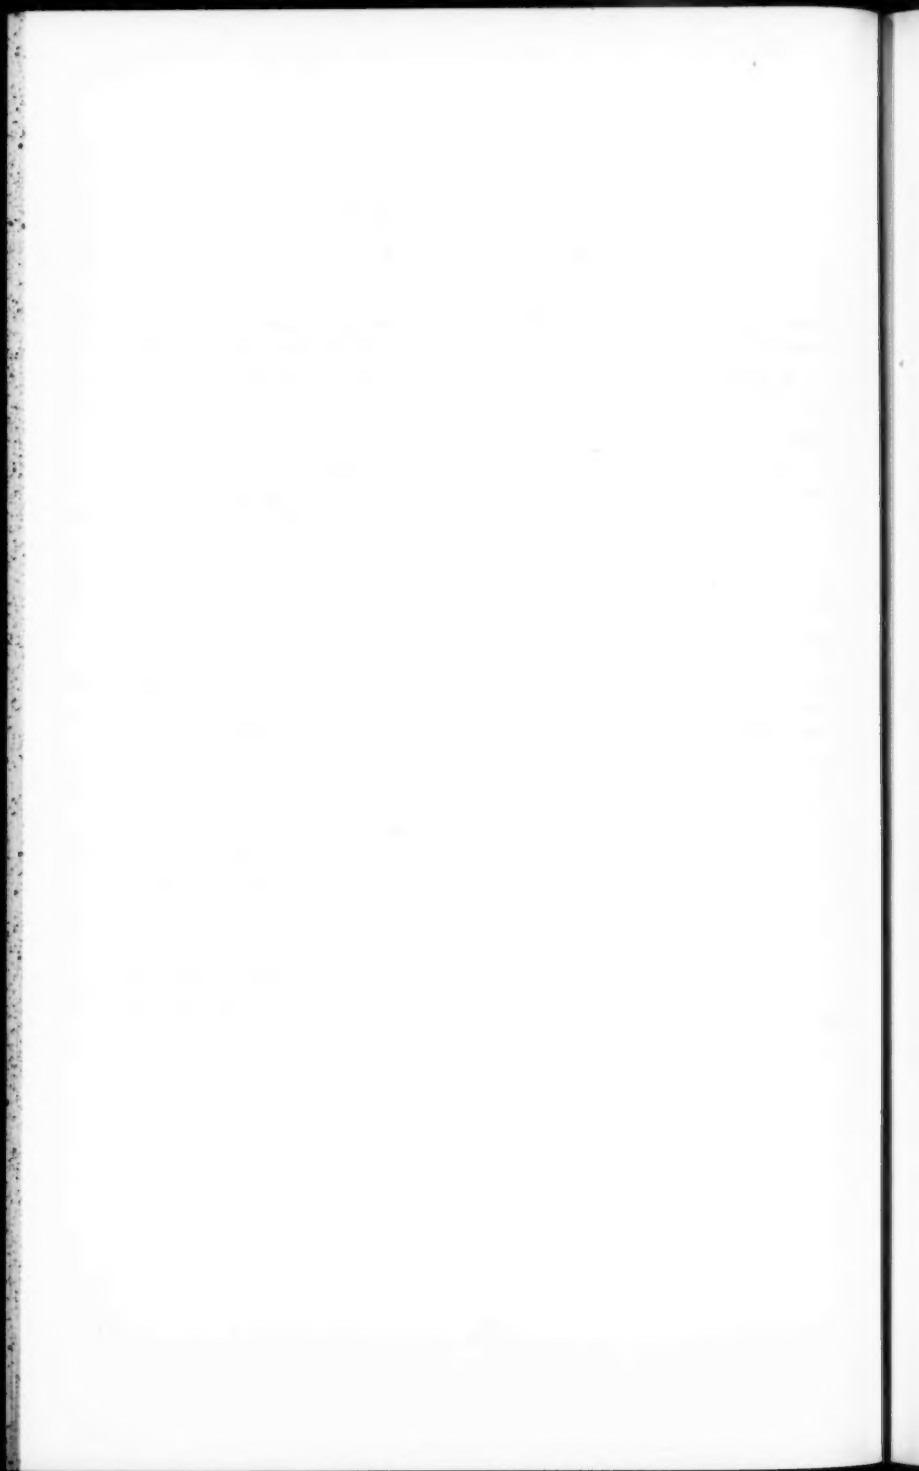

I direct that my executors, out of the remainder of my estate, shall set aside stocks, bonds and notes, or other securities of the value estimated by them to be sufficient to make the sum of dollars, which I hereby give and bequeath to The Art Institute of Chicago, an Illinois corporation, for uses consistent with its purposes, as the trustees thereof shall decide.

I give, devise and bequeath to The Art Institute of Chicago, a corporation of the State of Illinois, dollars to be held and applied by the trustees thereof for the uses and purposes of that institution.

I give, devise and bequeath to the said The Art Institute of Chicago, an Illinois corporation, the lands, tenements and hereditaments aforesaid, the leases and all my interest therein and in the covenants therein contained and in the rents to accrue thereunder, and also the reversions in fee in the lands above described.

I direct that my executors shall from my general estate pay over in convenient installments to the trustees of The Art Institute of Chicago, an Illinois corporation, such amounts as shall equal dollars per annum for the period from the date of my death until the . . . day of, 19 . . . , which amounts I give and bequeath to the aforesaid The Art Institute of Chicago to be received and applied by its Trustees.

The Trustees are deeply grateful to those who have already made gifts and bequests, and earnestly solicit all those wishing to aid and encourage the Art Institute in the great work which it is accomplishing with comparatively small resources, either to give or bequeath to it money or works of art of that high degree of excellence which is worthy of a great museum.

Nantasket Beach

EMIL CARLSEN, American, 1853-1932

Friends of American Art

This charming early work of Carlsen is reminiscent of beach scenes by Eugène Boudin and certain earlier paintings by Winslow Homer. Later Carlsen developed a more robust style and is noted for his still lifes, Dutch in inspiration.

Girl with Cherries

ÉVA GONZALÉS, French, 1849–1883

The Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Larned Coburn Memorial Collection

This facile example of French painting of the 1870s is the work of one of the few talented women painters of the nineteenth century. The broad and sensitive brushwork shows the influence of Édouard Manet, in whose studio she studied.

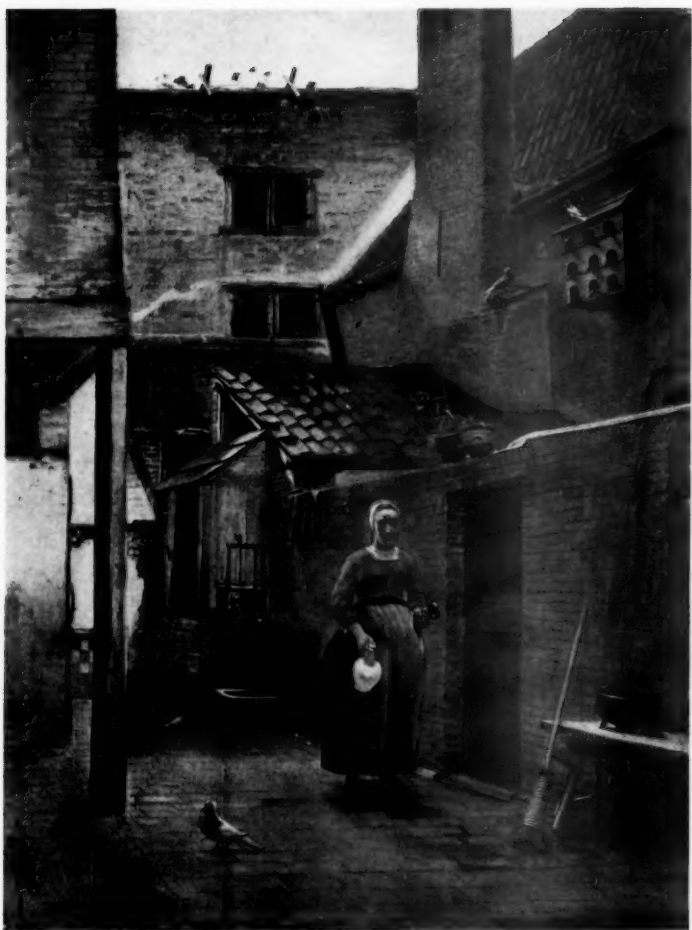

Woman with Prayer Book

BARTEL BRUYN, THE YOUNGER, 1522?-c. 1610

The Charles H. and Mary F. S. Worcester Collection

One of the most outstanding works of a noted sixteenth-century German artist, painted with enamel-like surfaces and crisp details.

Courtyard Scene

HENDRIK VAN DER BURCH, Dutch, 1614-c. 1678

The Robert Alexander Waller Memorial Fund

This charming Dutch scene from everyday life is influenced by similar paintings by Pieter de Hooch.

The Judgment of Paris

Attributed to MATTHIAS GERUNG, German, c. 1500-c. 1568

The Charles H. and Mary F. S. Worcester Collection

Though representing a mythological subject the scene is strongly medieval in conception, especially in the delicate landscape background.

Offer of Love (engraving)

ALBRECHT DÜRER, German, 1471-1528

The Joseph Brooks Fair Collection

One of the most important of Dürer's early engravings, executed about 1495, in which the handling of the draperies and the background still shows the manner of the Gothic tradition.

The Five Foxes (engraving)

ISRAHEL VAN MECKENEM, German, c. 1450-1503

The Clarence Buckingham Collection. This engraving shows Meckenem at his best, both as an excellent observer and as an engraver of unusual skill.

Noa Noa (woodcut)

PAUL GAUGUIN, French, 1848-1903

Gift of the Print and Drawing Club

This is a unique first impression taken in 1894 from the block which was one of a group which the artist cut in 1893 while in Tahiti.

Detail from a Scroll Painting, School of Matsuyama

Japanese, Seventeenth Century

Gift of Mrs. Alice H. Patterson

The meeting of Yoshitsune and a ladylove in the garden of a palace. A scene from a popular romance concerning the amorous adventures of the hero.

Gold and Silver and Silk Rug (Detail)
Persian, Polonaise Type, Seventeenth Century
Charles Deering Collection

Gift of Mrs. Chauncey McCormick and Mrs. Richard Ely Danielson
Few Persian rugs of this highly prized seventeenth-century type have been preserved in such perfect condition as this exceptionally fine example.

Tapestry Representing Vertumnus and Pomona

Flemish, Mid-sixteenth Century

Gift of Mrs. Charles H. Worcester

This remarkably fine example of Brussels tapestry weaving dates from the middle third of the sixteenth century and represents the story of Vertumnus and his love for Pomona as related in Ovid's Metamorphoses.

Sheraton Mahogany Side Table

English, c. 1780

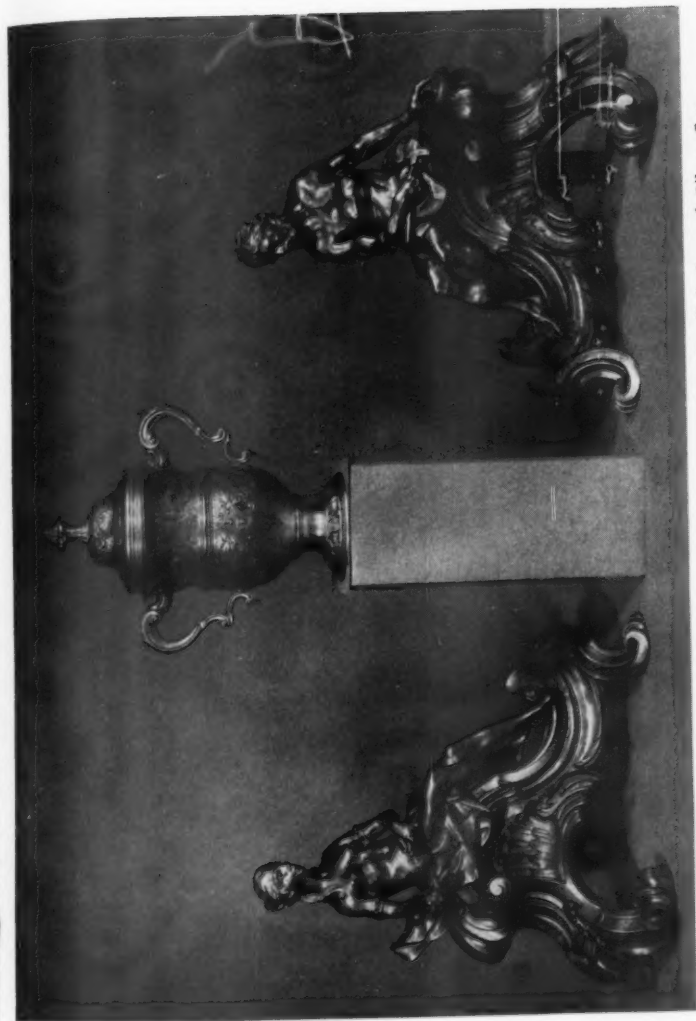

Gift of Samuel A. Marx

This fine mahogany side table, inlaid with tulipwood and satinwood, was made by the great English cabinet maker.

This fine mahogany side table, inlaid with tulipwood and satinwood, was made by the great English cabinet-maker.

Pair of Ormolu Chenets

French, Mid-eighteenth Century

Wentworth Greene Field Memorial Fund

The chenets or andirons are exceptionally fine examples of the bronze caster's and gilder's art of the Louis XV period, while the cup is an equally distinguished example of George II silver made by the versatile French Huguenot silversmith.

Sculpture Class in the School of the Art Institute

This informal view of a student modeling is characteristic of the school studios where workman-like methods prevail.

Gallery of Twentieth Century Painting in the Art Institute

Gallery 40 has been done over and re-installed with notable examples of modern painting and sculpture of various European schools.
